

It's a real Xmas cracker!

Kids — you can win an outing for all the family and a special present in our poetry contest

IT'S a Christmas Cracker for all the family — the carol concert by the Royal Choral Society at the Albert Hall.

And kids you can win tickets for your nearest and dearest to go to this year's event on Saturday, December 17 which is hosted by TV star Rolf Harris.

London Newspaper Group in conjunction with the Royal Choral Society and Whitbread Ltd., who are sponsoring the traditional Carol Concert, have family blocks of tickets.

They are on offer as prizes for the best poems for Christmas written by young readers of this newspaper, aged under 12.

All you have to do is to write a poem on any Yuletide theme of no more than 100 words before the contest closes on December 9.

We will announce the winners in our December 16 issue.

As well as a VIP ride to the Albert Hall kids and mums and dads will have the chance to meet Rolf Harris at the afternoon matinee show.

The organisers hope he will be able to read the winning poem on the stage during the show.

There will also be special surprise Christmas presents for the winning poets and prizes for the runners-up.

Send your entry to Christmas Poetry Contest, London Newspaper Group, Winslow Road, London W6. There are four tickets per family for the main prizewinners.

CHILDREN meet singing star, artist and TV personality Rolf Harris — this year it could be your turn kids.
